Foreword

Believing that some member or members of the Chapman family in the future might appreciate knowing something of their origin and how they are related to each other, the compiler of this book made a long and thorough search of county, city, state, church and cemetery records to put into a permanent form the genealogy of this family.

It is to be noted that there is no such thing as a perfectly complete genealogy. There are many gaps and incomplete data which are caused by the lack of historical records and the failure on the part of individuals to furnish information.

This collection includes all the known descendants in each generation. It is the combination of the lineages of numerous family units and includes collateral branches as well. Births, baptisms, confirmations, marriages, education, professions, occupations, military services and deaths are recorded.

The name of Chapman is Saxon in origin and is among the earliest of English surnames. The definition of the name is 'pedlar' or 'vender'.

The armorial bearing is practically the same for all members or branches of the family, with the motto, "Virtue thrives under oppression", i.e., "Crescit sub pondere virtus".

The History of Whitby, England, by Young, states that "the Chapman family prior to the year 1400 resided at Whitby, Yorkshire County", according to the records of Whitby Abbey. An old manuscript settles them at Whitby in 1216 in the reign of Henry III.

The Standard Genealogical Encyclopaedia of the First Families in America, by Frederick Virkus, Vol VI, p 764, records that "during the early 17th century a score of more of Chapmans came to America through Boston, most of whom settled in that area."

The preparation of this work began in the latter part of 1945 before the compiler was aware of the research which had been done by Charles B Gerard. However, it was decided to enlarge upon this work bringing up to date some of those lines of family units not traced by him.

My sincere thanks are extended to all those who have so willingly given help, and a debt of gratitude is offered to Miss Anna Belcher Moore, Miss Muriel Moore and their brother, Mr Jared Blanchard Moore, of Chatham, New Jersey, for their patient and generous cooperation and material help, without which, the continuation of this research may not have been undertaken; to Mr and Mrs Nelson Chapman of Orient Point, Long Island, for their data on numerous members of the William Edgar Chapman family, to the Honorable Ralph Chapman, municipal judge of Brattleboro, Vermont, for the loan of his copy of The Descendants of Ralph Chapman, by Charles B Gerard, published in 1876, and for the contribution of material collected by himself and his brother, Mr Gerard Chapman of Chicago, Illinois; to Mrs Peter Bolhouse of the Newport Historical Society for her untiring and generous assistance.

John H Chapman.

The first member of our family to come to America was Ralph Chapman when at 20 years of age embarked on a ship named "Elizabeth" from London, St Saviour's Parish, in April 1635. He was born in Southwark, Surrey County, England in 1615, and married Lydia Wills of Duxbury, Massachusetts, on November 23 1642.^{1,1a} This is the earliest recorded marriage in that place.

Ralph Chapman was a shipwright² owner of extensive real estate; owner and operator of a ferry; raised cattle; hailed to court for striking a man; served on juries; referred to as a pioneer,³ founder,⁴ and a person of quality.⁵

Four years after his arrival in America he purchased twenty-five acres of land as the following indicates: "That Peter Collyer for and in consideration of the sume of six pounds sterling to be payd him the last day of Aprill next by Raph Chapman of Duxburrow hath freely and absolutely bargained and sould unto the said Raph Chapman all those his xxv acres of land due unto the said Peter for his service and all his Right title and interrest of and unto the same wth all singular thapprtenc belonging To have and to hold the said xxv acres of land and all the singular and apprtenc thereunto belonging unto said Raph Chapman his heires and Assignes for ev to the only pper use and behoofe of him the said Raph Chapman his heires and Assignes for ev." Dated Oct 8 1639.⁶

"John Jordaine was brought before the Court for having taken stuff to line a dublet and yet lyned not the skirt and restored not the rest." Raph Chapman "to be payd for a yard of stuff as he payd Jonathan Brewster for it."⁷

The "Court doth order Mr Collyer and Mr John Alden to show what land was appoynted to Mr Thomas of Green harbour; and then Mr Prence, Captain Miles Standish, Edward Bangs, William Paddy, Jonathan Brewster, John Winslow, Josias Cook, Thomas Little and Josias Pratt to view and measure the meddow land at Green Harbour betwixt this and the next Court; and then to make report of the number of acres there; that they may be afterward disposed of, and if they fynde any bound marke to be pulled up, and others set in their stead. Jun 1, 1640."8

On November 2 1640 Ralph Chapman was given "a grant of twenty acres his houslot to be a part thereof, lands that lye northward from Duxburrow Mill, towards Green Harbour."9

"Memorand. A list of men at Marshfield, Massachusetts, in 1643 were made freemen and among them was Ralph Chapman. 12

This deed was acknowledged in the Generall Court of the third of March 1645 by both pties. "as the above written Will was p^rsent^ed before the Court without either Subscription of seall therto by the Testator Deceased; the Court saw Cause to Require further evidence Concerning it and accordingly severall Testimonies were produced by which it clearly appeared ... that the Testator ... altho hee was in Disposing mind ... when this will was written yett that hee was then soe Disabled by reason of weaknes of body and lamnes and swelling of his hands soe as hee could neither subscribe his hand nor affix his seale therto as more fully appears ...

"October 30 1672 The Disposition of William Foard sen^r aged 67 or therabouts...he being Desired to come to Ralph Chapmans house in the time of his extream sicknes;and when I came to his house;hee Desired of mee to write his will for him...which I Did for him according as hee Did express to mee word for word without any disturbance of son or Daughter; the said Chapman altho very weak in body yett in p^rfect sence and memory to my best apprehension;this being Done according to his mind; Thomas Tilden being in the house wee Desired him to Read that and sett his hand to it as a witnes; some speech we had about the sicke man seting his hand to it; but hee being not Capable by Reason of his being much swollen in his body and hands; not able to hold a pen or any other thing in his hands; and I not knowing the Nessesite of it; so that it was not Done;" Sworn in Court, 6 June 1672, attested by Nathaniel Morton, Secretary.

"Thomas Tilden being aged about fifty yeares Doe Testify that I being att the house of William Norkott where goodman Chapman lay sicke when William Foard sen^r wrote his will Doe apprehend that the said Chapman was in his Richt sences...although very weake and much swelled that I think he was incapable to use his hand; Sworn 4 June 1672 before Josias Winslow, Assistant.

"The Disposition of Ephraim Little aged 22 yeares or therabouts...being at the house of William Norkott after the will was made...they Desired mee to sett my hand to the will; then the Scribe Desired that I would Read it which accordingly I Did; and after that Mr. White had Read it; hee asked Ralph Chapman whether this was according to his mind;and hee said it is; and further this Deponent saith that I Judge hee was in his p^rfect sences...and further I testify that they asked whoe shall keep the will: Mr. White said lett Ephraim Little; but I made some words; and Ralph Chapman said let my son William Take it and Give it to Edward Wanton; and they spake concerning the old will; and it was Chapmans Desire it should be burned; which accordingly they Did; Sworn in Court 6 June 1672; attested by Nathaniel Morton, Secretary.

"The testimony of Anna Little aged sixty yeares or therabouts saith coming to visite Ralph Chapman a little before his will was made; and his Daughter was ffeeding of him, saith the Deponent Why doe you feed him; and his Daughter answered hee cannot feed himselfe; his hands are so swelled; and Shee being faine to Cutt his victualls into smale peeces put into his mouth which I stranged att: She uncovering his hands I saw they were swelled like bladders to my amazement; This said Deponent further saith that sometime after Shee coming thither to visite againe; they were swelled soe that his Daughter was faine to put his tobacco pipe to his mouth and returne it againe as hee would; for I saw hee could not; as I Judge Doe it; and this Deponent further saith not. Taken in this Court this sixt of June 1672 attested p^r me Nathaniel Morton, Secretary."

The preceding disposition which shows that Anna Warren Little was born about 1612, was made in connection with the probating of the will of Ralph Chapman of Marshfield, to show that he could not sign it.

"On reference to the estate of Ralph Chapman, deceased. Att the Court of his Matie held at Plymouth for the Jurisdiction of New Plymouth, the fift Day of March Anno Dom 1671 . Although the Court is not satisfied in some respects concerning his will, notwithstanding, they have ordered and do require Edward Wanton of Scituate to look into and take care of the said estate, preservation and improvement thereof and of his land and to keep an account of his doings about it until the Court shall see cause otherwise to order." William Edgar Chapman was killed at Lake Waramaug, Conn. by a fallen tree. See Ref.94 for following: 'Merritt-Chapman-Scott Corporation, 1860-1960. A Century of Pioneering. 'Chapman's Floating Muscles'. William E Chapman began his career with small capital, large ideas and an enormous capacity for work. The year that Merritt bought out the Coast Wrecking Company, Chapman was going bankrupt in his brickyard on Wallabout Canal in Brooklyn. Fortunately a debtor gave him a cargo lighter in lieu of cash. In 1881 with the lighter as a nucleus he and two of his three sons went into the lighterage business as the Chapman Derrick & Wrecking Company. Those burly Chapman derricks with booms of Oregon pine, helped build the ports they served. Their gangling arms later made of massive steel, were and remain to this day the mobile muscles of American ports along the Eastern seaboard. Like many another unglamorous workhorse, the Chapman derricks performed their routine chores with plodding success. In the midst of their routine grind of daily chores, Chapman's derricks one day suddenly found themselves famous. In 1882, P.T. Barnum, the great showman, bought "Jumbo" an African elephant, from the London Zoological Gardens for an exhibition tour of the U.S. On Sunday April 9 1882 "Jumbo" was met at Jersey City by the RELIANCE, queen of the Chapman fleet. Before a large gathering of reporters and Sunday picnic parties, the Reliance raised the six-and-one-half-ton cage containing the six-ton "Jumbo". With scarcely a break in the rhythm of the Reliance's hoist, the derrick swung the $12\frac{1}{2}$ ton package out over the river and, gentle as a feather, set it down on the lighter. Dockside superintendents cheered. A tugboat shouldered its way through river traffic and took the lighter to Pier 1, at the lower tip of Manhattan. There the Reliance again lifted the cage and beast, this time placing them on a huge wagon pulled by 16 horses. It was a convincing display of the power and precision of the float-derrick. Chapman's sons developed a knack for making derricks profitable. William L Chapman was a chip off the pioneering block. Dissatisfied with the status quo, he kept designing changes until he had evolved a mammoth derrick capable of lifting 250 tons. This behemoth, with three-legged steel "A"frame, a 90 foot steel boom and a potent new engine, was appropriately named the MONARCH. Early in 1897 The Merritt-Chapman Derrick & Wrecking Company was formed, an amalgam of two durable, hustling rivals under the Black Horse Flag." 94

"Ralph Chapman. 1715. Shipwright, and Benjamin Norton, Mariner. Both of Newport in the Colony of Rhode Island. Appellants. From a judgment of General Court of Trials held at Newport, the first Tuesday of September 1715, in an action of trespassing damage 100 pounds current money of New England.

William Rouse of said Newport, blacksmith, appellee. The case being duly heard and maturely debated, the judgment of the Court of Assembly is, that the judgment give the now appellee against the now appellants Ralph Chapman and Benjamin Norton, at the above said General Court of Trials, held at Newport, be confirmed for the now appellee with the costs of Court. The Appellants, Ralph Chapman and Benjamin Norton desiring an appeal from the judgment of this Court of Assembly, to the King and Council, this Assembly do grant the same, they giving in bond for the prosecuting of their appeal in answering all damages that may accrue thereon, according to the laws and customs of the colony." 59

Ralph Chapman d Feb 17 1728 at 49 ys of age. During his life he pursued his trade as a shipwright on Commercial Wharf (Chapman's Wharf)⁶⁰ where his father had been before him. This wharf is located on the same area where the Newport-Bristol Ferry now operates. (1960).

It appears that the headquarters of master shipwrights during 1712-1718 were located at King-Head Tavern, which was kept by Timothy Whiting. Such men as James Sheffield, Benjamin Belcher, Robert Taylor, Ralph Chapman and others gathered to discuss shipping. 61

When the British evacuated Newport, Rhode Island, Oct 25 1775, they took with them the vital records of the city. The ship in which they sailed was sunk in Hell Gate of the East River in New York, and it remained there until December 1782, when it was raised. The records were returned to Newport and placed in an old granary which served as a town hall and where they were kept until 1857. Upon examination they were found to be almost ruined by salt water and dampness. They were put through a chemical process for restoration and in so doing some of the paper fell apart and much was illegible. Among these records was the last will and testament of Walter Chapman who died in 1756, written in his own hand, and read in Jun 1954 by the compiler of this book who later made a copy of it which follows. The records are in the archives of the New England Historical and Genealogical Society Library in Newport, Rhode Island.

Ada Fannie Chapman bp St Luke's Day Oct 18 1908 in the Church of the Redeemer by the Rev Chas Henry Webb. d Apr 24 1954. m Dec 8 1921 James Thomas Joseph McCluskey of Brooklyn, New York, who died in Manhattan in 1943. Shortly after the birth of her daughter she divorced her husband on the charge of bigamy. Then when opportunity afforded she returned to her former position as a bank bookkeeper where she became head bookkeeper. After 23 years years of employment with the Manufacturers Trust Company at the corner of 23rd Street and Lexington Avenue in New York City she retired because of poor health. Her death occurred after an illness of nearly nine years. As time passed she lost in part the use of her voice and the ability to walk. While living at 189th Street in Flushing, she was a faithful communicant of St Mary's Church and a member of the Altar Guild. During the years while employed in Manhattan she frequently attended midday services in Lent at The Little Church Around the Corner on 29th Street, just off Fifth Avenue. At the monastery of the Order of the Holy Cross several Masses were said for the repose of her soul. At St Mary's, the Burial Office was read by the Rev George Kempself.

James Thomas Joseph McCluskey m Nov 15 1943 at Big Springs, Texas, by the Justice of the Peace, Mavis Mozell Brewer b Jun 7 1919 at McLean, Texas, a U.S. Army nurse. They made their home in Lubbock, Texas, having bought a new house at 3319 Jarvis Street, later building their own home at 2126 56th Street in Lubbock. For a while he was employed by the Santa Fe Railroad and then with the Lakewood Pipe Company of Lubbock. He developed a hobby of woodcarving, having been inspired by a picture brought home from Sunday School by his nine year old daughter Marie. Out of a group of nine pictures, all except one are religious pictures, including the Last Supper, Jesus calling James and John , The Lost Sheep, Jesus in the carpenter shop, Jesus as a boy in Nazareth, and others. One carving, The Light, shows a house and a barn surrounded by snow, with a fence in the foreground, and mountains in the background, giving four dimensions to his pictures. He also carves the frames for each one from ponderosa pine. An exhibit at Phillips, Texas, won for him first and second prizes with the two he entered. His carving tools are a pocket knife and a chisel. The knife is called a sailor's knife, which was his grandfather's Benjamin Harris Chapman, and is well over 100 years old.

Henry Webb. con Apr 19 1914 by The Rt Rev Frederick Burgess, the Bishop of Long Island, while he was a choir boy in St George's Church in Astoria; attended public schools there, the Bryant High School in Long Island City, McBurney Preparatory school in Manhattan, Du Bose Church School in Sewanee, Tennessee, and the De Lancey Divinity School in Buffalo, New York. Ordained Deacon Jun 19 1935 in St Paul's Church, Henderson, Kentucky, by The Rt Rev Chas E Woodcock, the Bishop of Kentucky, and to the Sacred Priesthood Jun 24 1936 by The Rt Rev Chas Clingman in Christ Church Cathedral in Louisville, Kentucky. He served as Vicar of Trinity Church, Owensboro, Kentucky, and Trinity Church, Lawrenceburg, Indiana later. During his ministry in the latter parish, the Ohio River overflowed its banks in January 1937 and completely flooded the town. The day before the disaster he left Lawrenceburg at the request of his parishioners and remained for 17 days in the home of one of them just outside the flooded area. All his personal belongings were lost. From 1938 to 1941 he was Priest-in-Charge of Christ Church, Palmyra, New Jersey, and was forced to retire due to emotional strain. In May of 1942 he enlisted in the U.S. Army of Engineers. For a short term he was a company clerk and later Assistant First Sergeant of Co B 3rd Bn Engr Trn Corps. He refused an opportunity to take officer training. Discharged from Fort Belvoir, Virginia Mar 5 1943, no active service abroad; given an Honorable Discharge under a newly enacted law permitting men 41 years of age and over to do so. He found employment as personnel director in a large industrial plant in Maryland. Later employed as a statistical clerk in New York City, he decided to try church work again and went off to Bluff, Utah, to the South West Indian Mission, but finding this too rigid, he left for Los Angeles, where he remained for about a year. In May of 1948 he returned East and after a year as a Companion in the Order of the Holy Cross, he was employed as a secretary under three of the Superiors consecutively, and then was assigned as the manager of Holy Cross Publications. He became a member of the Newport Historical Society of Rhode Island in 1957.

In the years spent in research for this record, it was found to be a great source of pleasure and a challenge. Many relatives near and distant were found and close friendships developed. There were the Chapmans of Kansas and California, nieces and nephews of my father; the Moores of Chatham, New Jersey, descendants of Jane Catherine (Chapman) Morgan, my grandfather's sister; the Chapmans of New Bedford and Providence, descendants of Alfred Chapman, my grandfather's brother; the more distant Chapmans of Brattleboro, Vermont, and Orient Point, Long Island. It is certain that none of the persons mentioned here were known to my father, who when he was only five years of age along with his mother, a brother James Leonard and sister Mary Jane, lost contact with his Chapman relatives. None of my brothers and sisters, as well as myself, could ever recall having heard our father speak of any close relatives, with the exception of his brother who had gone to Kansas, and his sister Jennie, who had died years before any of us were born.

I have visited all the known cemeteries where Chapmans are interred and have copied the inscriptions from the stones. For this see following pages.

"Sunnywoods 2nd Oldest Boro Business Sold. Sunnywoods Greenhouses, second oldest business in Chatham which has been conducted in one family since 1885 was sold recently. The name originated in 1885 when Mr and Mrs Frank L Moore first located on their 12 acre tract at 105 Fairmount Avenue. On walking thru the woods on the tract, Mrs Moore remarked 'what a sunny woods'. Mr Moore immediately said, 'Let's call our place Sunnywoods.' Greenhouses were built that year and roses shipped by Railway Express to N.Y.C. The greenhouses survived the blizzard of 1888 which started on Sunday. It was the following Thursday before D L & W trains could get as far as Summit and an endeavor was made to go by horse and wagon to Summit with a shipment. That failed, but the next day the shipment went through. In 1893 the pink rose Bridesmaid was originated at Sunnywoods.

This variety became the principal pink commercial tea rose and remained so until replaced by a more prolific variety in 1912. In 1916 his son, Jared B. Moore graduated from Rutgers, having taken his agricultural course. He then endeavored to build up a retail business. Sunnywoods joined the Florists Telegraph Delivery Association in 1916 when FTDA was only about five years old. From 1917 to 1919 Jared Moore was in the Army. On his return he worked in the greenhouses as fireman at night and some day work. In 1920 the Sunnywoods Orchestra was organized, although not connected with the business, Mr Moore was the conductor. In 1939 Sunnywoods Flower Shop at 7 South Passaic Avenue was opened. There Jared Moore with the help of his sisters, Muriel and Anna B Moore had managed the shop for the past 16 years." "Chapman, Edward Thurston, cigar and tobacco merchant, the son of Alfred M and Caroline F (Dunham) Chapman, and was born in New Bedford, Mass., Apr 30 1845. Alfred M Chapman was born in New York City in 1819 and came to New Bedford about 1835 and learned the sailmaker's trade. In 1839 he shipped on a whaling vessel and made one voyage. On his return he engaged in manufacturing sails and continued in that business until about 1887, first as a partner of Captain Hunt, and later as a member of the firm of Chapman and Taber. Sometime after, he was the senior partner of the firm of Chapman and Shurtleff. Mr Chapman was first engineer of the fire department and was one of the organizers of the fireman's Mutual Aid Society, which he served as treasurer for several years. He died May 22 1891, aged 53 years. Edward T. Chapman was educated in the New Bedford Schools and left in 1862 to enlist in Co E 3rd Mass. Vol City Guards for nine months. In 1864 he re-enlisted in Co E 58th Mass. Vol and fought in the following battles: Kingston, White Hall, Goldsborough, Wilderness, Spottsylvania, North Anna River, Shady Grove Church, Mine Gun, Bowling Green, Cold Harbor, where he lost his left arm June 2 1864 from a severe wound. He was honorably discharged from the hospital at Reedville, Mass in 1865 with the rank of sergeant. Mr Chapman was promoted 2nd Lieutenant and acted in that capacity during Grant's Virginia Campaign, but never received his commission. Since 1867 he was engaged in the wholesale and retail tobacco and cigar business in his native city, and was the oldest dealer in tobacco, cigars and smoker's articles in New Bedford, and had occupied his present store, corner of William Street and Acushnet Avenue since 1887. He was a member of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Co., of Boston, the City Guards Association of New Bedford, Post 1, G.A. R., the Veteran's Firemens Association, was aide-de-Camp in General Fairchild's Staff, G.A.R. On September 13 1868 he married Lenora D., daughter of Salisbury F Brown of Westport, Mass., and they had one son Harry M born Jan 5 1869 who is associated with his father in business." 89

Harry Mortimer Chapman m Clara Packard b Apr 22 1869 d Oct 26 1951 at 82 ys 6 mo 4 da. They had two daughters. Upon the death of Harry the following notice appeared in the New Bedford Standard Times* on April 4 1961: "H.M. Chapman Dies at 92. Was Treasurer of Local Firm. Harry M. Chapman, 92, treasurer of the Gold Bond Sterilizing Powder Company, Inc., died at his 61 South 6th Street home yesterday. He had been confined there about three years with a heart condition. One of New Bedford's oldest native sons, Mr. Chapman was the only child of the late Edward T. Chapman and Lenora (Brown) Chapman. Upon the death of his father in 1900, Mr. Chapman took over the tobacco and bowling alley business of his father on Acushnet Avenue, just south of William Street. In 1912 Mr. Chapman entered the Gold Bond Sterilizing Powder manufacturing firm. The powder is distributed throughout the world. Three years later he had the Chapman building constructed at the northeast corner of Pleasant and Elm Streets and operated the powder firm's business from an office in that building. He was at the office daily until about three years ago. The manufacturing plant is located at 26 Water St., Fairhaven. Mr. Chapman was interested in the history of New Bedford, and in the den of his home he had one of the largest collections of New Bedfordiana in this area. For many years he was an active member of the New Bedford Kiwanis Club, and his interest in that service group continued until his death. Mr. Chapman's wife, the former Clara Nye Packard, died Oct 26, 1951. Survivors are two daughters, Mrs. Gladys C. Burton of Providence and Miss Mildred M. Chapman of this city, vice-president of the firm, who made her home with her father."

"At the regimental muster held at Smith Mills in 1832 an episode occurred that without doubt resulted in the final disbandment of the Light Infantry Company of New Bedford. The Corps came into the field under command of Lieutenant John H Chapman, Sr, and as the other companies of the regiment were all commanded by Captains, the Light Infantry Company for strict military rule was assigned the left of the line. They had long occupied the post of honor, the right of the line, and were highly indignant when they found themselves disciplined; when the regiment drew up in line and the places of each company definitely fixed, the Light Infantry Company under command of a non-commissioned officer, Paul Ewer, marched off the field and encamped on an adjoining meadow. Lt. Chapman retained his position in the line and thus escaped court martial, though he was undoubtedly in sympathy with the action of his company. The incident created great excitement for it was unprecedented in the history of the regiment. Since a violation of military law could not be overlooked, each man was fined $12. and an apology from the company was demanded from headquarters. The Light Infantry Company had several meetings to consider the situation but refused to apologize and were therefore disbanded. Their last meeting and parade was held Dec 17 1833 at 12:30 p.m." 90

The New Bedford Mechanics Rifle Company was a successor of the Light Infantry Company and was organized in 1834. A Volunteer Light Infantry Company was organized Jan 25 1841 with the name "New Bedford Guards" and the following officer, Sgt John H Chapman led the first parade made by this company on April 27 1841 in commemoration of the death of President Harrison. The company was made up of 100 men.
